Dear Prof. Salvatore Settineri,

Editor in chief of Mediterranean Journal of Clinical Psychology,

Please find enclosed the manuscript:

Psychosocial risk and protective factors in people with hypertension authored by

Vanja Kopilaš, Lovorka Brajković and Dora Korać.

All authors have read and followed the Instructions to Authors and they have all seen and approved the final version of the manuscript. This manuscript has not been published, is not currently submitted elsewhere, and it does not contain data that are currently submitted or published elsewhere. The submission includes the manuscript.

The main aim of our manuscript was to explore the relationship between resilience, coping strategies, emotional regulation and control and associated aspects of health status in people diagnosed with hypertension. We believe that our manuscript exploring these concepts fits perfectly with journal's focus.

Thank you in advance for considering this manuscript for submission in Mediterranean Journal of Clinical Psychology.

Best regards,

Vanja Kopilaš, PhD

on behalf of all authors
